

ONCE WEALTHY MOHAMMEDAN IS IN SOVIET CAMP

Former Ruler of Central Asia is Ragged, Starving and Forgotten in an Old Convent Prison.

(By The Associated Press.)
Moscow, Jan. 20.—Robbed, ragged, starving and forgotten in the big concentration camp of Pokrowsky, a few miles distant from this city, is the fate of the Hevdiar, Khan of Khiva, who, until a few months ago, was one of the richest of the Mohammedan rulers of Central Asia. As he is nearly 50 years old, he may die there.

Hevdiar, successor to Tamerlane the Great and Genghis Khan, who ruled from China to Germany in the Middle Ages, is a pure-blooded Uzbek Turk to whom the sultan of Turkey is a mere modern upstart. He has been brought to his present plight through the revolutions engineered by the Moscow soviet in Russian Turkistan, aided by Enver Pasha, recently denounced by Mustafa Kemal Pasha as the arch-traitor of Turkey.

To widen the rift, the treatment of the Khan of Khiva, not yet widely known by people of the Mohammedan world, is expected in time to widen the rift that has long threatened between the Russian Soviet and the Mohammedans of India and the old Turkish dominions. The Russians have long been hated for their conquest of Khiva, Bokhara, and the rest of the territory known for the past 60 years as Russian Turkistan.

For two centuries the Russians tried in vain to conquer these warlike peoples and only in 1873 was Khiva humbled and its Khans made subject princes of Russia. But they retained their religious influence and their vast wealth and when they came to the Russian imperial court at Petrograd, their presents in gold and jewels surpassed easily the treasures of that gorgeous court.

For the past two years the soviet influence has been slowly tightening its hold on old Russian Turkistan, under General Doutoff, aided by 100,000 German war prisoners. First, a soviet revolutionary committee was formed at Tashkent, after the approved Bolshevik manner, and later at Bokhara, and finally at Khiva. These committees in turn gave way to the formation of soviet republics, as in Baku and Tiflis, at the point of the Red army's bayonet.

The Emir of Bokhara, was reduced to a figurehead, though still held as a possible religious successor to the sultan of Turkey.

Usefulness of the Genuine
Thedford's Black-Draught Liver Medicine Has Long Been Known

Yale, Okla.—The usefulness of Thedford's Black-Draught liver medicine has long been known to Mrs. A. B. Leach, of Route 1, this place, who says:

"About twenty-eight years ago, we were living near Belleville, Kans. I was in very poor health. I would eat, but it didn't seem to satisfy or do me any good. I was bloated, felt oppression at the stomach. The fullness in the right side was awful.

"I did not feel like doing a thing. Eating even made me tired. I sat around, feeling so miserable. One day I looked in the glass and my complexion seemed so—my ears looked wax; skin flabby, pale, I was in a bad fix.

"I had been taking medicine, as I was told it was necessary of my liver that was causing this trouble. About this time—nothing having done me any good—I began to look for a cure.

"I read of Thedford's Black-Draught, and my husband went to the drugstore for it. . . . I began its use, and my liver began to improve. My appetite became more normal. Gradually the bloating disappeared, and my skin cleared up. I began to see marked improvement, and from then till now I have praised Black-Draught as the best liver medicine made.

"I keep Black-Draught in the house and have used it ever since. Have lived here in Oklahoma on my farm for twenty years and regard Black-Draught as my family liver medicine, and expect to keep it for years to come."

Ask your druggist for Thedford's.

GRANARIES FULL BUT PEOPLE ARE SHORT OF MONEY

Residents of Levy and Wagon Mound Vicinity Live on Fat of the Land But Have No Ready Cash

(Special Correspondence to The Journal.)
Las Vegas, N. M., Jan. 20.—People residing in the dry farming districts north and east of here, in the vicinity of Levy, Nolan and Wagon Mound, say they have everything on earth that could be desired, but one—and that one thing is money. Their granaries are filled with wheat, corn, oats and beans. Their fields are stacked with hay. Their pigs are numerous and fat. Their cattle are sleek and in prime condition. They have enough provisions on hand to guarantee them against lack of food for many months or even years. But when it comes to ability to reach into their pockets and bring forth the price of a new suit or a visit to the movies, many of them feel that they do not have it.

Production Records Broken.
The reason is the poor price of the products of the farms. The Nolan, Levy and Wagon Mound country is famous for the success of its dry farms due to the excellent of the soil and climate and the skill of the farmers. Last year, it produced better than ever before. Production records were broken both in quantity and quality. This came on the heels of 1920, a year in which there had been a slump in prices of farm products and livestock, and a consequent carry-over. Nineteen twenty-one saw more favorable marketing conditions, and the farmers saw the chances of ready money fading.

A Las Vegas man who visited that section on a collecting trip recently, said that he was told everywhere that there was no money.

"We're living on the fat of a land," one man said, "but we haven't any money. Where'll we get the money to pay my taxes I can't say."

Another said: "I have all I want to eat, but when I want to smoke, I have to take some of my stuff down to Wagon Mound to trade it for tobacco. It's the same thing with sugar and coffee. The stores do not pay for our products in money, but they're good about trading with us."

"It's been so long since I've seen any money," said another farmer, "that a man passed a half on me for a dollar, and I did not know I'd been cheated for three days."

Using Corn for Fuel.
The farmers are using corn for fuel, and say it makes good heat and is cheaper and easier to get than any other kind of fuel.

Their condition is a good deal better than the man's who is hungry and broke, they say, for while they may be cheated, they have plenty to eat. Fresh pork, pure milk and cream, cornbread, wheat bread and pancakes, beans, beef, smoked ham, fresh eggs and chickens, first class butter, and every other good thing that a farm can produce are theirs, but they "just naturally" don't get "no money."

In the crisis the dairy cow is proving the farmer's best friend, for there is a better market for milk, cream and butter than for any other farm output.

Not Discouraged.
The farmers are not discouraged. They will put in good sized crops for this year. Many of them hold to the belief that the country's food production may be cut down so materially by an unfavorable season or by some economic causes, that the hold-over crops of 1921 may yet be sold for high prices. The fall and winter so far have been unfavorable for winter planting, but everybody is ready to plant and plant as soon as the first moisture comes.

NATIONAL FARM LOAN ASSOCIATION FORMED IN MESILLA VALLEY

(Special Correspondence to The Journal.)
Las Cruces, N. M., Jan. 20.—Mesilla Valley National Farm Loan association was formally organized at a meeting in the Temple of Agriculture here January 19, when these officers and directors were elected for the year:

President, H. H. Brook, Las Cruces.
Vice president, W. P. Thorpe, Dona Ana.
Secretary-treasurer, M. B. Stevens, Las Cruces.

The directors are F. J. Risney, La Mesa; S. G. Kilgore, Berino; H. W. Conklin, La Union, and the president and vice president.

The personnel of the loan committee will be announced later. The territory to be covered by the association consists of the Mesilla valley, within the confines of the Elephant Butte irrigation district as defined by law and shown by the plat on file at the office of the county clerk, and does not include the Pecos district, west of the Rio Grande.

It is understood that from $200,000 and $300,000 will be available, probably in March or April, for loans on approved applications.

By the terms of a resolution unanimously adopted by the board of directors, applications for loans will be placed in three classes by the board and considered in their consecutive order, as follows:

Class A—Applicants having mature mortgages facing immediate or early foreclosure.
Class B—Applicants desiring to purchase land or to provide livestock, improvements, or equipment for land owned by them.
Class C—Applicants who are now sufficiently financed but who desire to secure a farm loan solely for the purpose of refunding obligations at a lower and better rate of interest.

Within the foregoing classes applications for loans will be considered in the order as filed with the secretary-treasurer, provided applicants that no application shall be considered as filed until and unless accompanied by the required fee. The Mesilla Valley association is a member of the Federal Land bank at Wichita, Kans., whose territory includes Kansas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Colorado.

MEETING ADJOURNED.
Cleveland, O., Jan. 20.—Because of the lack of a quorum today, today's meeting of the board of directors of the National Association of Manufacturers was adjourned until tomorrow. Several of the directors failed to arrive.

Dr. Henry Curtis, Specialist in Child Welfare Work, Addresses Parent-Teachers' Meeting.

(Special Correspondence to The Journal.)
Raton, N. M., Jan. 20.—Wednesday afternoon the Raton parent-teacher's association held their regular monthly meeting in the high school auditorium. The chief speaker of the afternoon was Dr. Henry Curtis, a specialist in child welfare and playground work.

Before Dr. Curtis spoke, Mrs. E. Keigel, home service secretary of the Red Cross, spoke briefly on the work which is being done on the east side to supply food for the indigent people, and outlined some of the plans for the future. She criticized the sanitary conditions on the east side, particularly with reference to the Longview school, which has no hot water nor inside toilets. The city sewer system does not extend to the east side, thus making it impossible for better conditions in this section.

Julius Kuhnert, director of the department of health, education, reported on the work of the ways and means committee. The Red Cross has volunteered to take care of all indigent cases needing medical or surgical attention to the limit of the funds available. The parent-teacher's association will appreciate all voluntary contributions so as to make the work more effective. The Royal Neighbors have already given a substantial sum without solicitation.

Dr. Curtis took for his subject "Education Through Play." He pointed out the importance of play in the school curriculum and as an example he explained thoroughly the play movement in England in the various schools. A minimum of twelve hours of play is required in the English schools and all must play the required games. He spoke also of the habit forming elements of games as well as their corrective value. He particularly urged the supervision of the games played. He stated that every school playground should be supervised by a competent person and that all recess periods should be organized with the teacher in charge and playing the games with the children.

In speaking of the size of the grounds about the school, he said the minimum should be an acre of land, which should be increased for the larger schools. The board of education should supply the balls and bats necessary because it was not fair to the boy who owned a ball for seventeen others to bat it to pieces. The cost of the equipment is small compared to the results gained. Every school ground should have indoor baseball courts, volley ball courts and tennis courts so that all children will have an opportunity to play.

In closing he strongly urged a summer playground, centrally located where all the children can play. This playground should be at a school building, so that its efficiency can be increased. A playground away from the school is idle all day while a school playground is accessible to the children before school, after school and during recess periods and for the regular physical training periods. The school building furnishes an ideal place for indoor play during inclement weather. At least one playground should be lighted so that adults may play at night. A playground system should be supported by public funds.

TUBERCULOSIS

Can it be cured?
Dr. T. F. Glass has positive proof that it can. His remedy is used at home, in any climate, with no return of the disease.

His files, with letters being daily received from the users of the remedy, are open to investigation. The following letter is just one of many such coming into his office. For the information of those who are inclined to scoff at testimonials, I wish to advise that fraudulent testimonials cannot be published. Not one fraudulent word would be published for $1,000 in cash.

"David, Ky.,
"December 25, 1921.
"The T. F. Glass Co.,
"Los Angeles, Calif.

"My wife began your treatment for tuberculosis in May 1921, and has used five months' treatment. When she began using the treatment she would cough all the time, day and night, and was so weak and poor that she could hardly walk across the floor. Now she has gained flesh and can do a right smart of work in the house and is still gaining health and strength. I am surprised at the good she has received, so I can recommend your treatment to anyone that wishes to know about it."
